BBC Music Day 2019 will kick start its initiative to help bring music to everyone living with dementia by 2020, working with all major organisations in this field.

We have been lucky enough to be granted a music session for BBC music day through the BBC, this session has been kindly donated by Keeley May. We look forward to meeting her

Highlights of August

August has been and gone in a flash but has left us with some lovely memories. The conservatory is now being put to full use; there is an audiobook in their everyday to listen to whilst enjoying the view. Many of you have enjoyed sitting outside using the new garden furniture, which is perfect for this time of year. We have nearly finished the first season of the crown, it has been a show nearly everyone has enjoyed even if they are not a royalist.
